

Jeff Love

As an artist, I am truly inspired by the natural beauty of the West. Nature has an infinite variety of color and ever changing form in a daily dance of light, defying all words. Whether it is through the majesty of a mountain peak or in the fleeting moments of a fading desert sunset, my intention is to speak richly from the heart, without the use of any words at all. ◀ Clothed in Majesty, oil, 30 x 40. ▶ Solitary Passage, oil, 30 x 40
